

ESSENTIALS GEAR TO GO CAT-EXPLORING

INTRODUCTION

Hello, my cool Cats,

We are Julie, Daniel & Nala from
@Somewhat.Gypsea

We have just completed our Lap of Australia & are currently in Europe undertaking a Vanbuild ourselves with the help of our little assistant Nala (our rescued cat).

As you imagine road-tripping Australia for two years with Nala we have learned valuable tips & gain priceless first-hand experience on how to Travel with a cat.

Too valuable to keep for ourselves, So if you are looking for some hot tips on how to join the Adventure Cat Movement these free guides are for you!

We hope they inspire & help you the same our Community Inspired us to Start Exploring ;)

1: HARNESS

One that fits perfectly without restricting your Cat, there are so many different ones, make sure you are 100% happy with the one you select before going outdoors.

2: LEASH

We love retractable leashes, but that is probably because of the kind of exploring we do.

However, we recommend one between 3 to 5 meters, we believe that leashes over 5 meters are not safe, as 5 meters is a rather big distance in case of an emergency.

3: BREAKAWAY COLLAR

In case your cat does get caught it will safely disconnect freeing your cat, yet it allows your cat to wear a collar, ID & bell safely otherwise.

4: ID TAG & MICROCHIP

Make sure to have up-to-date contact details on both at all times.

We do keep an extra ID tag for Nala in case her collar breaks away, which still hasn't happened yet but we never know.

5: GPS TRACKER

They can be a bit pricey but there are options for everyone's budgets and needs.

6: BACKPACK/ CARRIER/ STROLLER

Whichever options you pick will provide a safe place for your Cat, a place to rest up, provide shade for your kitty and keep your cat's paw off the hot ground.

Before taking your cat outdoors in the carrier we recommend following our "How to teach your cat to love its carrier" Guide.

7: WATER BOTTLE WITH BOWL

Essential to keep hydration up & there are some great products out here. We personally recommend the water bowl that has a water bowl attached or the collapsible water bowls.

8: TREATS

Creamy treats especially if hot as they would help regulate Kitty's temperature.

9: BIODEGRADABLE POO BAG

Now even if cats do cover up their "creations" we believe it is the right thing to do to collect and dispose of them appropriately.

10: FIRST AID KIT FOR CAT

You can find some online or simply talk to your vet about that one as whatever you will need to carry with you is most likely to differ from where you live and the kind of exploring you will be doing.

We hope this list helps you get ready to go exploring!
